Part I. Program Description

I. About the Program

Introduction of the Program

Academic Education Programs sponsored by the Ministry of Commerce of the People's Republic of China is designed to foster high-end business officials and managerial personnel for the recipient countries, offering one-year and two-year master programs as well as three-year doctoral programs for the purpose of educating high-end and interdisciplinary talent working in the applied fields of government, trade, foreign affairs, agriculture, technology, education, culture and health, building intellectual capacity and facilitating the economic and social development of the recipient countries. These programs provide assistance to governmental officials, research fellows, and senior managerial personnel on their master and doctor education in China, which are fully conducted in English. Admission requirements include a bachelor's degree, relevant working experiences, and decent physical conditions, essential for the high-compact curriculum needed for the degrees.

Starting from 2008, a number of 1,695 students from developing countries have attended these programs, until now, except for those who are in the middle of their studies, 835 of them have graduated and obtained master degrees. These graduates are now working in their specialties back in home and undertaking an increasingly significant role in the economic development cooperation between China and their home countries. The Shanghai National Accounting Institute launched the two-year "Master of Professional Accounting Program" in 2015. Now the 20 government officials from developing countries are pursuing their master's degree studies in SNAI.

As for the positive effects and good results brought by these programs in strengthening economic ties and friendship between China and the recipient countries, the Ministry of Commerce of People's Republic of China will continuously intensify its efforts in enlarging the enrollment scale and improving the quality of education. We believe that by attending the programs and achieving the degrees, you will embrace a successful career and brighter future.

Prospective Students

Our prospective students are mid-to-senior level officials or managers from the government, the media, NGOs, and other public sectors, who have demonstrated superior performance, both academically and in their work.

Program Objective

The Program is designed to train experienced professionals and mid-to-senior level government officials in the field of accounting, finance and management in developing countries.

Enrollment Plan

In 2016 we plan to enroll a maximum of 25 students in our two-year full-time Master of Professional Accounting Program.

Financial Aid

The Chinese Ministry of Commerce will provide "Chinese Government Scholarships" to admitted students from developing countries. These scholarships cover both tuition and living expenses. They also include a round-trip international airfare for all the students, and a maximum of a round-trip international airfares for home visits. In terms of living expenses, it is RMB36,000 per year per student of the master program. There is also a settlement allowance of RMB3,000 per person.

If a student expects to have his/her spouse, children, relatives or friends to visit him/her during the stay in Shanghai, the visitor will have to bear all the expenses by him/herself.

II. Introduction of the Institute

About SNAI

The Shanghai National Accounting Institute (SNAI) was officially established in September 2000 with the strong support of the Chinese government. SNAI, as a public service institution affiliated to the Ministry of Finance of China (MOF), is subject to the dual leadership of MOF and the Shanghai Municipal People's Government. In 2011, SNAI was approved by the Academic Degrees Committee of the State Council as the unit for conferring Master's degrees in Professional Accounting and Auditing. Looking forward, SNAI will continue to make unremitting efforts to build it into the world's leading accounting institute with international recognition, which constitutes the realization of four sub-goals as being a highland in bringing up top accounting talents in China, a think tank for national accounting policymaking and corporate finance, a nationwide knowledge and information hub on accounting, and an international platform for communication and exchange in accounting.

About AFDI

The Asia-Pacific Finance and Development Institute (AFDI) which is co-located at SNAI, was initiated by the Chinese Central Government for region-wide capacity building under the APEC framework. Since the establishment in 2001, AFDI has conducted various capacity building trainings, seminars, forums and research on regional financial and development issues. Not only have these efforts facilitated knowledge and experience exchange, but also enhanced mutual understanding among the APEC member economies. In 2015, AFDI launched the Master of Professional Accounting Program, which has been approved as one of the “Master’s Program for Developing Countries” by the Ministry of Commerce. The Program aims to provide professional master degree education to the young and mid-aged finance officials in the region.

Campus and Facilities

SNAI campus covers an area of 34.67 hectares and a floor area of 87,000 square meters. Its geographical location also is favorable, being adjacent to Shanghai Hongqiao International Airport and National Exhibition and Convention Center. The park-like campus is equipped with first-class teaching and learning facilities, as well as single room accommodations with 24-hour air conditioning, hot water and wide-band network for the international students during their schooling.

Degree Thesis

1) General Requirements of Degree Thesis

Students are expected to bring specific research topics concerning accounting or financial management to the program, as a part of thesis research preparation. They will write a thesis on a special topic independently under the guidance of their supervisors using the theory and practice of accounting and related disciplines. In some special cases, it could also be research report, or case analysis report with high standards. The thesis should be written in English with no less than 15,000 words.

2) Degree Thesis Defense

Degree thesis defense takes place in SNAI. A committee for Degree Thesis Defense shall comprise three to five experts with equivalent qualifications in the subject or relevant subjects, including one or two members who are from practitioner organizations and have senior professional and technical titles.

Degree Requirements

Students are required to successfully complete 40 credits of course work, a master thesis and thesis defense within the required time period. After meeting the above requirements and receiving the approval of SNAI Academic Degree Evaluation Committee, the Master Degree of Professional Accounting will be awarded.
